School No.1 PE Athlete of the Month!

Election Day: Nov. 7

Well, it is that time of year again. The leaves are turning brown, the air is getting colder, and pumpkin spice has made its way into everything, which also means Election Day is coming up soon! I bet you thought I was going to say Halloween.

November 7th is Election Day, and on that day, the Fort Lee School District will have an Early Dismissal. This means lunch will not be served and the school day ends at 1:00pm for grades 1-4 and at 12:50pm for Kindergarten. Please remember to pick up or arrange care for your child. No after-school clubs are held on Early Dismissal days.

Right@School will begin immediately after the school day ends. Thank you and don't forget to get out and vote!

Welcome to School No.1 Kindergarten! By Mr. Byrne

We have had a strong start from the Library Media Center this year. We have just finished reading two chapter books in their entirety, logging over three hundred and fifty pages; Dory Fantasmagory by Abby Hanlon, a book about a highly imaginative six year old girl preparing for school for the first time and Baby Monkey,

Private Eye by Brian Selznick, a book about a Baby Monkey who is...a Private Eye. It is almost that time of year when the Kindergarten will borrow a book from the library on their own for the first time. Next week all Kindergarteners will take home My Practice Library Book. Parents, please help them with this assignment as it is necessary for them to complete before then can borrow their very own library book from School 1.

Happy Reading,
